

Hi {Firstname},

Welcome to this month's edition of our Clover Leaf Compass! As we continue our commitment to providing your family with valuable resources and timely updates, we are excited to present our latest website article: Tax Benefits and Deductions for Families of Children with Disabilities. This offers crucial and timely information to help you make the most of available tax savings and navigate the complexities of filing season with confidence. All of the information contained in this article should be discussed with your tax professional.

Speaking of tax professionals, we are thrilled to announce the newest addition to our team, Dolly Suarez, CPA,CFP®. Dolly will be joining us as a tax preparer and team member just in time for tax season if you are still looking!

Dolly began her career in public accounting, spending several years at a CPA firm preparing individual tax returns and working closely with families to navigate the complexities of tax season. Through that experience, she developed a strong foundation in tax strategy and a deep appreciation for helping clients feel organized and confident about their finances.

Wanting to expand her impact beyond the tax return, Dolly later transitioned into wealth management, where she began integrating tax planning with broader financial strategy. As both a CPA and Certified Financial Planner™, she enjoys helping clients see how today's tax decisions connect to long-term goals like retirement, business growth, and building generational wealth.

Dolly graduated from the University of Mary Washington and now lives in Southern Maryland with her growing family. When she's not working with clients, she's usually spending time at home with her newborn son and two dogs, enjoying this new season of life.

We look forward to the positive impact Dolly will have and the personalized guidance she will provide as you navigate your tax journey. You can reach out to Dolly directly at Dolly@cloverleafwealth.com or you can book a consultation directly below:

Section 504 Faces New Legal Challenge

Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act is back in court. Texas and eight other states have filed an updated complaint in a lawsuit they originally brought in 2024. The case challenges how the federal government is enforcing certain disability rights protections. READ MORE

How Art Museums Are Serving People With Visual Impairments

Italy is known for its extraordinary artistic heritage. Yet not all its visitors have been able to fully appreciate the artistic treasures on offer. Visitors with vision impairments or other disabilities have often been unable to experience its art, artifacts, and architecture in the same way as others. However, in recent years, museums and cultural sites have aimed to change that by creating ways for people to experience art with senses other than sight. READ MORE

How Assistive Technology Benefits Students With Disabilities

For students with disabilities, assistive technology can make the difference between merely attending school and truly participating in it. A new report from the U.S. Government Accountability Office (GAO) looks at how schools are providing these tools and where students with disabilities may still be falling through the cracks.
